Union County Convention.

All persons who are in favor of unconditionally sustaining the Administration in a vigorous prosecution of the war until the rebellion is finally suppressed, are requested to meet in their several precincts, (where delegates have not already been choosen) to choose delegates to a County Convention, for Multnomah County, to be held on Saturday, the 7th day of May, A. D., 1864, at the Court House in said county at one o'clock, P. M., to nominate candidates for the Legislature and County Officers for said county, and to transact such other business as may be properly brought before the Convention.

The Committee recommend one o'clock, Saturday, the 23d of April, as the time for holding Precinct Meetings.

The several Precincts are entitled to the following number of delegates:

South Portland Precinct, 20; North, 19; Sauvie's 3; Powell Valley, 3; Sandy, 2; Willamette, 2; Multnomah, 2; East Portland, 2; St. John, 1.

Portland, April 5, 1864.

The Democratic Nomination.

By a dispatch received yesterday, we learn that our old friend, Col. James K. Kelly, was selected as the Congressional champion of Oregon Democracy. If there was the slightest chance of his election—if his party had the enormous power, which it formerly possessed, we should have no regret that for once it had nominated an estimable and a competent gentleman. To Col. Kelly personally, we have not—we cannot justly have any objections: he is fully qualified and will not basely betray the interests of his State, unless he is under the pressure of political influences which are likely to overwhelm the "very elect" of his party. By his acceptance of the nomination, however, he becomes the representative of an organization, which is seeking the overthrow of the Government,—which embraces among its members, every traitor, and every evil disposed man. We do not say, or wish to be understood, that our opponents are all hostile to the Government, but we insist that when their party finds a place for or shelters every rebel sympathizer in the land it must bear the odium and the reproach it assumes. Col. Kelly may be a pure, an upright and a competent man, but when he allows himself to be the candidate of a party which avows its opposition to the Government,—when he goes upon a platform, which we know his honest heart does not approve, he must expect the opposition of every patriot. Colonel, you are with the wrong crowd; among your supporters, are all the most inveterate and determined enemies of the Government, whom you and we believe and know deserve public and universal repudiation. We beg you, as a sincere and just man, to come out from among the foes of your country, and be and act with those only who are striving to save the institutions of freedom from utter destruction.

Soldiers Voting.—Judge Whitely, of Ohio, in deciding the question of the right of soldiers to vote outside of their own State, takes a view similar to that announced by the Supreme Court of California. He says:

"The right to exercise the elective franchise is not migratory. The elector does not carry it about with him, he must vote at his place of residence or not all. I am aware a man does not lose his residence by temporary absence; but it does not follow that he carries his residence or his civil rights, inseparable from it, with him wherever he may go. His rights, made incident to his residence, remains with it when he leaves, to be exercised only on his return."

There are serious difficulties surrounding this subject, never anticipated when the Constitutions of the various States were adopted, which deserve careful consideration. Our own cavalry regiment cannot vote in June, but provision, if possible, ought to made to give to its members the privilege of voting in November—a privilege which belongs to them as patriotic citizens, and of which they ought not to be deprived, because they are serving the country in the field.

The New Revenue Collector.—We notice in the Eastern papers, the mention of the appointment of Henry Dellinger as Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Oregon, in place of L. W. Coe, resigned. We understand that the position was offered to Judge Graves, who has with great fidelity performed its duties during the past year, and was declined by him. Mr. Dellinger has been until very recently, the editor of the Jacksonville Sentinel, and will, we have no doubt, prove himself a faithful officer.

The Democratic Delegates.—What a farce! Language cannot do justice to the subject. The idea of Ben. Stark representing Oregon Democracy is overwhelming. McMillen might do it; he has the [illegible] power to represent anything, and will do it as well as any body can. The rest will go; Gov. Whitaker helps to make the thing look well, but neither he or the others will be heard of except as they are named to-day.

Gen. Beauregard and the Black Flag.—Sometime ago it was stated by Gov. Letcher, in a speech at Danville, that Stonewall Jackson was in favor of the black flag. It appears from the following private letter written by Gen. Beauregard while recruiting his health at Bladen Springs, Ala., after the retreat from Corinth, that he coincided in opinion with Gen. Jackson. We find the letter in the Columbia Guardian, which obtained the writer's permission to publish it:

Bladen, Ala., Aug. 3, 1862.

My Dear General:—I regret much to hear of being wounded. I hope he will soon be able to face the Abolitionists. In this contest we must triumph or perish, and the sooner we make up our minds to it the better. We now understand the hypocritical cry of "Union and the Constitution," which means, and always did mean, "spoliation and murder."

We will yet have to come to proclaiming this war "a war to the knife," when no quarter will be asked or granted. I believe it is the only thing which can prevent recruiting at the North. As to ourselves, I think very few will not admit that death is preferable to dishonor and ruin.

Our great misfortune is that we have always relied on foreign intervention "and peace in sixty days." No nation will ever intervene until it is seen that we can maintain alone our independence; that is, until we can no longer require assistance. England is afraid to admit that she cannot do without our cotton, for then she would virtually be within our power. France is unwilling to interfere for fear of the treachery of the latter. She always remembers her as "la perfide Albion."

But if France concludes to take Mexico she will require the alliance of the Southern Confederacy to protect her from Northern aggression. Nations as well as individuals always consult their own interests in any alliance they may form. Hence our best reliance must be in our stout hearts and strong arms.

I have been very unwell for several months, but could not rest until now. I hope shortly to return to duty, with renewed health and vigor. I know not yet to what point I shall be ordered. I hope to do something shortly by taking the offensive with a well organized army. However, "l'homme propose et dieu dispose;" hence, I shall go with alacrity wherever I am ordered.

With kind regards, etc., I remain, yours, sincerely, P. G. T. Beauregard.

Gen. Wm. E. Martin, Pocotaligo, S. C.

Personal Sketch of General Grant—How He was Taken Down by a Sentinel.—The Nashville correspondent of the Louisville Journal says:

Gen. Grant is a plain, unostentatious man. He-dons no superfluity of tinseled insignia, and wears nothing but a plain regulation suit. In carriage his body inclines somewhat forward. His eyes, when he is not oppressed with business, wander to all manner of objects. If his presence is required at once at any point, his step is quick and nervous. He is never seen on a richly caparisoned steed, with a troop of orderlies clattering after him, or a dashing escort. His visits through the city are usually prosecuted on foot, and if he rides it is generally alone, and in a common, open buggy, behind a fast horse. Fast horses are favorites with him. His simplicity of character and ease of manner; his thoughtful, calm, and tardy articulation; his wonderful versatility of mind, that comprehends at a moment, and dictates replies with equal rapidity and care, all mark him as a favorite among the people, and as peculiarly gifted for success. His love for discipline, and his consequent indisposition to oppose rank and authority to orders when subordinates have been instructed by the proper officers, is observable in the following little incident that come under my observation at the depot a few days since. The guards are instructed to admit no one to the cars until the applicant's pass has has been examined and found valid by the military conductor.

Gen. Grant, ignorant of the instructions given the guard, mounted the platform and made toward the car door. He was wrapped in a huge overcoat, and the guard scarcely knew whether he was an officer or a citizen, and accosted him:

Guard—Here, sir, you can't go in there.

General—I am Gen. Grant.

Guard—Can't help it, General. My orders are to let no one pass.

General—(Smiling in admiration of the soldier's fidelity)—Right, sir, right.

With the other applicants, citizens and soldiers, the General took his place and waited the coming of the military conductor.

What the Rebels Think.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Knoxville recently, gave an account of a flag of truce expedition to the rebel lines. The following is one of the suggestive mentions:

"After the business for which the flag had been sent out was attended to, the whole party sat down by the side of the railroad and indulged in a familiar interchange of thoughts. The rebs treated to apple-jack, and the Yanks to Bourbon.

'Who are you going to elect next President?'

'Old Abe has the inside track.'

'Oh, God! then the war will never end; but what chance will McClellan stand?'

'Not the least.'

'Sorry to hear it; he is the best man you have.'"

Of course they understand who is the best man in the North—for their cause.

Good Words from an Englishman.—Mason Jones, who came to this country on a lecturing tour several months ago, delivered an address at Manchester, England, on the 31st of January, on the war in this country, in which he heartily espoused the cause of the North. He was especially severe upon Mr. Spence, the rebel champion in England, for circulating falsehoods about us. He declared the cause of the war to be "wholly and solely slavery." "For all the misery that has been caused," said he, "and all the blood that has been spilt, Jefferson Davis and his compeers are guilty, and their condemnation is sure. The rebellion is a conspiracy against the rights and liberties of mankind." He further said: "There was nothing more noble in the history of the world than the attitude and action of the Northern people since this war began. As a moral spectacle it was unique." He predicted a complete triumph for the North.

A Frenchman, having been but a short time in New York, was invited to partake of a large bowl of punch, a liquor which he had never tasted before. The next day, speaking of his entertainment, he asked, "Vat de call dat liquor dat be all contradiction? where is de brandy to make him strong, and de water to make him weak, de sugar to make him sweet, and de lemon to make him sour?"

"I suppose you mean punch?" said one.

"Aye, punch!" said monsieur: "it almost punches out my brains last night!"

Senatorial Classification.—A correspondent at Washington thus writes to a western paper:

After three months' daily attendance in the Senatorial jury box [better known as the reporter's gallery] I have brought in the following verdict. I don't know how far the general public will agree with me, but those who disagree are privileged to appeal to a higher Court:

The best lawyer—Mr. Collamer, of Vermont.

The best scholar—Mr. Sumner, of Massachusetts.

The best general debater and practical legislator—Mr. Fessenden, of Maine.

The "keenest" debater—Mr. Trumbull, of Illinois.

The most pleasant speaker to listen to—Mr. Doolittle, of Wisconsin.

The best financier—Mr. Sherman, of Ohio.

The richest man—Mr. Sprague, of Rhode Island.

A very sensible old man—Mr. Wade, of Ohio.

The greatest bore that ever lived—Mr. Davis, of Kentucky.

The Knight of the Sorrowful Nigger—Mr. Lane, of Kansas.

The most violent Copperhead—Mr. Powell, of Kentucky.

The most eloquent Copperhead—Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky.

The most bibulous man in Congress—Mr. Richardson, of Illinois.

The best looking man, when sober—Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware.

The man who has the least to say—Mr. Hendricks, of Indiana.

The man who made a faux pas in issuing a "strictly private" circular, which soon became public property—Mr. Pomeroy, of Kansas.

The man who comes nearest to being nobody—Mr. Riddle, of Delaware.

The Overseer and the Watermelons.—While marching from Tuscumbia to Courtland last summer, with a portion of his command, the late Col. Roberts, of the 42d Illinois Regiment, halted with his escort at a plantation by the roadside, for refreshments of some kind. No white person was about but the overseer, and he was surly and crabbed enough.

"Are there any watermelons about?" asked the Colonel.

"I've got none," doggedly answered the overseer.

"Well, if you haven't any, hasn't somebody on the place?"

"I don't know. Shouldn't wonder if the niggers had some. You can find out by asking them."

"Look here, sirrah!" exclaimed the gallant Colonel, now somewhat irritated, "those airs you are putting on are about played out in this country. Tell your negroes to bring out some of those melons, and do it quick."

The command was too imperative to be disregarded, and the overseer started off. In a few minutes he returned with the negroes and a number of fine, large melons. The party ate freely of them, and, when all were disposed of, the Colonel turned to one of the negroes and asked,—

"Boy, were those your melons?"

"Yes, sah! I growed 'em."

"All right. What's your charge?"

"Reck'n dey am wuth a dollah, sah."

"Cheap enough! Now, Mr. Overseer pay that boy a dollar."

"What for?" growled out the overseer.

"Because I tell you to, and because you have acted the dog instead of the gentleman. Hand over the dollar forthwith."

The dollar was paid to Sambo, and the Col. rode off, leaving the overseer standing in the porch a little wiser, if not a better, man.

Teaching the Slaves to Rebel.—It is a matter of grevious complaint among the rebels that wherever the Federal army goes, the negroes walk off from their owners and claim to be free. When they were about to inaugurate the rebellion, they used to tell thousands of their slaves in the crowds of listeners to whom they spoke, that if Lincoln were elected, they would be free—and that if Lincoln's army ever got here, they would all be free, and would have a right to enslave their owners. The negroes supposed they were telling the truth, and have taken them at their word. The "cutting out for a free State" by the negroes, is the result of the last ten years Democratic stump speaking in this country.

We heard such scoundrels as John Hope Crouzier boast in their speeches here, three years ago, that they would bring on the war,—they would prosecute it until the independence of the South was acknowledged—and that, if necessary, they would give the last dollar, the last little nigger, and the last man in the South. Well, they have given the last dollar, and they are now out of both money and credit. They will soon have given up the last nigger, and we are for prosecuting the war until they have contributed their last man!—Brownlow's Knoxville Whig.

The Feeling in North Carolina.—The Raleigh Progress, one of Gov. Vance's newspaper organs at the Capital of the State, draws this picture of the state of feeling among the people of North Carolina:

"Much has been said about the influence of certain papers and meetings in North Carolina, and that the cause has been injured by the sentiments of the one and the action of the other, but the course of Congress, since the commencement of the present session, has raised a clamor for peace throughout the length and breadth of this State as far in advance of the feeling created by the meetings held last summer as an Egyptian pyramid is superior to a pigmy nine-pin; and if the people are permitted to vote at the elections in August next, no man can secure suffrages for place or power who is not pledged to contend for the personal liberty of the citizen and to favor and urge negotiations with the enemy for an honorable peace."

Consequences of the Rebel Currency Law.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 24th ult. says:

On the publication of the Currency bill passed by Congress prices immediately "leaped up." Everything has an upward tendency. Yesterday whiskey, which had been selling ten days ago at ninety dollars a gallon, could not be bought for one hundred and twenty dollars. Brown sugar, twelve dollars and a half per pound by the hogshead, and none offering. Some of the dealers have absolutely shut up, and refused to do business at all, preferring to hold on to the goods rather than receive anything in the shape of money larger than a five dollar note.

The author of "The Parson's Daughter," when surprised one evening in his arm-chair, two or three hours after dinner, is reported to have apologized by saying: "When one is alone the bottle does come around so often." On a similar occasion, Sir Hercules Langrish on being asked, "Have you finished all that port (three bottles) without assistance?" answered, "No, not quite that; I had the assistance of a bottle Madeira."

A wag seeing a lady at a party with a very low-necked dress and bare arms, expressed his admiration by saying she "out-stripped" the whole party.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

Marysville, April 13.—Gold in New York to-day is quoted at 175¾.

Democratic Convention at Albany.

Salem, April 14.—The Democratic State Convention, at Albany, adjourned this P. M. The following are the nominations: Jas. K. Kelly, of Wasco Co., for Congress; A. E. Wait, S. F. Chadwick and Benj. Hayden, for Electors; Benj. Stark, Wm. Higbee, Wm. McMillan, Jefferson Howell, John Whitaker, N. T. Caton, Delegates to the Chicago Convention; For Judges, 2d Judicial District, Stukely Ellsworth; 3d District, J. S. Smith; 5th District, J. H. Slater.

Prosecuting Attorney for Fourth District, L. Wolfl.

New Way of Buying Gold.—We were recently witness to a transaction in gold dealing which was decidedly new to us, and may be to some others. A man entered Clark, Gruber & Co's Banking House with a lot of nice looking retort from the Gunnell lode, which weighed something more than 103 ounces, and offered it for sale to Mr. Harris, who is in charge of the business of the above firm. Mr. H. examined the gold and then said: "I will give you $23 an ounce for it, as it is, or, if you will permit me to heat it, so as to drive out a portion of the quicksilver, I will give you $23 50 per ounce." The gentleman accepted the latter proposition, when the gold was placed in a large mortar and then subjected to the influences of a roaring fire in the stove for near two hours. On being removed from the stove and again weighed, it was found to have lost over sixteen ounces, or about three hundred and eighty dollars. The owner of the gold was completely nonplussed at the result, and hastily gathering up his retort, left the bank, swearing he would never sell another ounce of gold in the Territory.—Denver paper.

Talleyrand not only said, but did many witty things. On the death of Charles X., he drove through Paris for a couple of days, wearing a white hat. He carried a crape in his pocket. When he passed through the Fauxbourg of the Carlists, the crape was instantly twisted round his hat; when he came into the quarter of the Tuilories, the crape was instantly slipt off and put into his pocket again.

Lord Summerville, in a party of ladies and gentlemen, propounded his plan for cultivating the wastes of Africa, when a witty old maid present whispered, loud enough to be heard, that she thought it a most uncharitable idea, while so many waists remained unimproved at home.

Clatsop Convention.

A Convention of Delegates, to be chosen by the unconditional Union voters of Clatsop, Columbia and Tilamook counties, will be held at the Court House in Astoria at 1 o'clock P. M. on Saturday, the 7th day of May, 1864, to nominate a candidate for Representative in the State Legislature. Clatsop and Columbia will be entitled to ten votes each, and Tilamook two votes.

The Delegates for Clatsop will be chosen at precinct meetings to be held at the places of voting at 2 o'clock P. M., on Saturday, April 30th. Astoria precinct will be entitled to five delegates, the Plains, four delegates, and West's Mills, one delegate. At the time and place of the District Convention, the Clatsop delegates will nominate their county ticket. By the Union County Committee,

A Fine Frame.—Among the many fine things at Buchtel & [illegible] Gallery is an exquisite picture frame, wrought in shell by Mrs. L. S. McLauren, of Brooklyn. It is a credit to the lady's good taste, and we think is deserving of notice.

The Schooner Ellen.—Captain George H. Flavel purchased the schooner Ellen yesterday, for the sum of $2,000. She will be used in carrying building materials and supplies to the new fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia river.

The Next Steamer.—The steamship Brother Jonathan left San Francisco on the 12th for Portland, via Victoria. She will probably not arrive before the 19th.

Cargo of the Ellen.—The cargo of the schooner Ellen sold to good advantage yesterday. The potatoes brought 30 cents a bushel, delivered on board, the bacon sold at 15½a16 cents per pound. A large number of peltries were sold to different parties at fair prices.

Japanese Pump.—Silver & Fain have a sample of the pumps manufactured in Japan, on exhibition at their store. The specimen is of simple construction, something after the model of a common force and suction pump, but the reverse in action. It is much like a squirt-gun, and will throw a pretty good stream.

Wire Down.—It must be expected at this season of the year that the telegraph wire will occasionally get out of order. The line was down between Levens' Station and Jacksonville yesterday, which has cut off our supplies of news for to-day.

MILITARY FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late Mr. B. B. Decker, was attended by the Washington Guards, in full compliment, and representatives of the other Military Companies, yesterday afternoon. The funeral sermon was preached at the Methodist Church by Rev. Mr. Rutledge, at the close of which an imposing procession was formed, and headed by the Mechanics' Brass Band marched to the grave. After the burial service a salute was fired over the grave by the Company of which he was a member. At a special meeting held at the Armory of Company B, last evening, the following resolutions of condolence were adopted:

WHEREAS, It hath pleased the Supreme Commander of the Universe, in the dispensations of His Providence, to call from our ranks and companionship [illegible] friend and fellow-soldier, Sergeant Benj. B. Decker, therefore be it

[illegible] That in this afflictive stroke of the Divine hand, we endeavor to recognize the certainty of [illegible] an event which awaits all things human; and while we bow humbly beneath the chastening rod of an all-wise and merciful Creator, we cannot [illegible] feel that severe loss which has befallen us in the unexpected and early departure of our beloved [illegible].

[illegible] That in the death of Sergeant Decker, [illegible] gton Guards have lost one of their most [illegible] soldiers, an efficient officer and a good [illegible].

[illegible] That we deeply and truly sympathize with the family and friends of the deceased, in this [illegible] which has deprived them of their beloved relation and companion, and can only point them to the source of all consolation and bid them look to Him who will "heal all the wounds His hands have made," and who will finally re-unite the ties, so rudely broken by death's relentless [illegible].

[illegible] That the Secretary of the Company was [illegible] to furnish a copy of the foregoing resolutions [illegible] of the deceased, and also to the several [illegible] this city, with the request that the same be [illegible].
S. A. MORELAND, Secretary.

THEATRICAL.—This evening the drama of "[illegible]" will be performed for the benefit of Miss Frances R. Gass. It is a drama of [illegible] interest, which, connected with the [illegible] the Theatre will be closed after two [illegible], should fill the house from pit to dome. Julia Dean Hayne will conclude her [illegible] this week, and it will be the last [illegible] for our citizens to attend the [illegible] for some months.

[illegible] AWAY.—Yesterday as one of the Jehu's [illegible] was exercising the bottom of a [illegible] horse, attached to a sulkey, the animal [illegible] and run, from below the gas works. [illegible] the driver off his gig, the horse [illegible] to B street, where he was caught, [illegible] sulky and part of the harness.

[illegible] TIMES.—If it was not for the [illegible] of office seekers in button-holing [illegible] should scarcely have excitement enough to give us a good appetite. We have [illegible] to report in drunks for a week—what [illegible] matter be? Perhaps the old Bums [illegible] the weather fever and dried up.

THE CHURCH ORGAN.—The Presbyterian [illegible] Organ was unpacked yesterday, and placed in its position. The damp weather and [illegible] have injured it to some extent, but [illegible] damage has been done to it. The [illegible] parts will receive attention from [illegible] hands, as the instrument is put [illegible].

[illegible] FRAME.—Among the many fine things at Buchtel & Cardwell's Gallery is an [illegible] picture frame, wrought in shell by Mrs. L. S. McLauren, of Brooklyn. It is a credit to the lady's good taste, and we think [illegible] worthy of notice.

THE SCHOONER ELLEN.—Captain George H. Flood purchased the schooner Ellen yesterday, for the sum of $2,000. She will be used in carrying building materials and supplies to the new fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia river.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—The steamship Brother [illegible] left San Francisco on the 12th for Portland, via Victoria. She will probably not arrive before the 19th.

CARGO OF THE ELLEN.—The cargo of the [illegible] Ellen sold to good advantage yesterday. The potatoes brought 30 cents a bushel, [illegible] on board, the bacon sold at 15@16 cents per pound. A large number of peltries were sold to different parties at fair prices.

JAPANESE PUMP.—Silver & Fain have a [illegible] of the pumps manufactured in Japan, on exhibition at their store. WIRE DOWN.—It must be expected at this season of the year that the telegraph wire will occasionally get out of order. The line was down between Levens' Station and Jacksonville yesterday, which has cut off our supply of news for to-day.

SMALL POX.—Our Dalles neighbors are [illegible] with the small-pox, several cases having already occurred there, some of which proved fatal. Measures are being taken to [illegible] its spreading; the schools have been closed, and signals are to be hung out where the premises contain a sufferer by the contagion, to warn others away.

THE NEW COUNCIL.—The members of the new Council having taken their several oaths of office, met at the Council Chamber last evening, as follows: Councilmen Bennett, Elfelt, Frazar, Goodnough, Gradon, Hurgren, McCraken, Robertson, and Starr.

On motion of Mr. Starr the Council proceeded to the election of a presiding officer, by ballot, when John McCraken received 8 votes, and Thomas Frazar 1. Mr. McCraken was declared unanimously elected.

The President elect took his seat and returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him by the Council, in a short speech.

On motion of Mr. Elfelt the Council proceeded to ballot for Clerk of Council for the ensuing year. Mr. H. R. Meeker was elected on the third ballot.

Both these gentlemen are eminently qualified for the positions to which they have been elected, and we hope and believe that the Council will do equally well in filling every office which by the charter is subject to their control.

A communication was read from Mayor Failing, announcing that he deemed it proper to defer his message until the next regular meeting of the Council.

On motion adjourned.

The friends of Dr. Black and those who require his services, will regret to learn that his health continues poor. His partner, Dr. Mack, arrived last evening from east of the mountains, to take charge of the office.

SUITABLE.—Beckert's pump sole, Philadelphia made boots are just the thing. Shelby has received a new supply by this steamer. All who desire an elegant boot are advised to call soon.

STOP THAT COUGHING!
SOME OF YOU CAN'T, AND WE PITY YOU. YOU have tried every remedy but the right one; and that one is destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but
NEWELL'S Pulmonary Syrup!
Is really what is claimed for it; namely, the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefitted by the surprising curative powers of
NEWELL'S Pulmonary Syrup!
And with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the Greatest Panacea of the Age, for the healing of all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, assuring you that
NEWELLS' Pulmonary Syrup!
Has cured thousands, and it will cure YOU if you try it.
This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste, soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects; entirely free from all poisonous or deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.
Certificates from many prominent citizens of San Francisco, accompany every bottle of

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

CONCLUSIVE PROOF
OF THE EFFICACY OF
HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS!

PROTECTIVE MEDICATION

Great Truths
—IN—
SMALL COMPASS:

WHAT THE BITTERS ARE.
A pure, delightful, Vegetable Balm.
To cheer the spirits and the nerves to calm,
Protect the system from Miasma's bane,
Rouse torpid Nature and the strength sustain.

THEIR INGREDIENTS.
Juices of plants, roots, barks, of virtues rare,
By chemic art expressed with patient care,
And the mild spirit of the soundest rye—
Purest of all diffusive stimuli.

RESULTS OF THEIR USE.
Digestion rallies, appetite revives,
The food assimilates, the patient thrives,
Dyspepsia vanishes, with all its throes,
And peaceful sleep succeeds disturbed repose.

EFFECTS ON THE LIVER.
The bilious sufferer, languid, listless, pale
Physicked for years, [illegible]
Finds in the BITTERS [illegible]
And lives to smile at [illegible]

OPERATION ON THE BOWELS.
Relaxed, constricted, [illegible]
These organs should [illegible]
The cause of each [illegible]
The BITTERS [illegible] as well

EFFECT ON THE DEBILITATED.
The flaccid muscles [illegible]
The frame [illegible] its fire.
Strength [illegible] the heart returns
Till staff and crutch the convalescent spurns

BROKEN CONSTITUTION.
The constitution [illegible] care,
Or wild [illegible]
The [illegible] dews
Quickens [illegible] wasted power renews.

CHILLS AND FEVER.
Damp, [illegible] fog,
Brings [illegible]
But [illegible]
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS scatter to the wind

SICK HEADACHE.
The [illegible] kills
Yields [illegible] pills,
'Tis [illegible] takes its rise
Tone [illegible] BITTERS and the anguish flies.

WANT OF APPETITE.
Without [illegible] wane
The blood [illegible] clouds the brain,
But this [illegible] the system right
And "Good Digestion waits on Appetite."

THE BITTERS AFTER SICKNESS.
Exhausting [illegible] low
And [illegible] return is slow,
Then [illegible] Nature aid,
For in [illegible] conveyed

AS A GENERAL PREVENTIVE.
By night [illegible]
In instant [illegible]
But its dread [illegible] gale
Past all with [illegible]

IMPURE WATER, &c.
Roam through the world [illegible] of men
Here is the antidote [illegible] change, [illegible] range,
Water impure it temper [illegible]
Men in all hardships [illegible]

SEA-SICKNESS.
Who has not [illegible]
The qualms [illegible]
Dread them [illegible] power.
The Bitters [illegible]

AN UNADULTERATED TONIC.
Of all the liquors borne [illegible]
Not one—mark that—from [illegible] free.
These Bitters stand [illegible]
Powerless to irritate, though prompt to tone.

A MILD CATHARTIC.
Remember, too, aperient [illegible] herb
And blent with these [illegible]
In this rare mixture; [illegible] weight,
That while the Bitters [illegible] regulate.

A GENTLE CORRECTIVE.
If on the stomach food [illegible]
And pungent gas the inner [illegible] burns,
This grand corrective soon [illegible]
And from the heartburn frees the [illegible]

A SAFE AND GENTLE ANODYNE.
Why not with all the opiates dispense,
That shake the nerves and paralyze the sense,
When these rare BITTERS soothe both mind and frame,
Inviting both to yield to slumbers claim?

THE WORLD'S OPINION.
Touching the BITTERS, this grand fact is clear,
Their fame fills all the Western Hemisphere.
Known in all lands, washed by its oceans twain,
HEALTH, HOPE and VIGOR, follow in their train!

AVOID COUNTERFEITS.
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS share the common fate
Of all things good. Impostors imitate
Of these beware. Discreetly use your eyes,
From honest houses purchase your supplies.

CAUTION!
The Government Endorsement.
In order to guard against the impositions, the public are requested to take especial note of the beautifully engraved proprietary stamp, through which the Government of the United States officially authenticates every bottle of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This shield thrown by the Government over the proprietors and the public for their joint protection, is placed conspicuously across the cork and over the neck of each bottle, and cannot fail to strike the eye of the most casual observer. Nothing that purports to be HOSTETTER'S BITTERS can be genuine unless the stamp is there.
It is also proper to state that the BITTERS are sold exclusively in glass, and never under any circumstances by the gallon or the barrel. Impostors [illegible] abroad, and the only safeguard the [illegible] them is to see that the Bitters they buy [illegible] label and note of hand of Messrs. PROGRESS OF THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—The Mercantile Library Association have their rooms in Stark's building in a forward condition, and by the first of May the reading room will be opened for the use of members. The room to be dedicated to conversation, is also nearly completed. Unless some changes are made the reading room will be occupied by the Library, as well, but the Directors are endeavoring to take adjoining apartments that have been offered at a reasonable rate, to be fitted up for the Library, with a suitable room attached for the use of the Librarian. The location of these rooms, on First street, near Stark, is in a quiet part of the city, and hence a very desirable one. The Building is one of the finest Portland can boast of, and when the rooms of the Society are fitted up, and furnished, they will compare favorably with kindred Associations in much larger cities than ours.

MILITARY FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late Mr B. B. Decker, was attended by the Washington Guards, in full compliment, and representatives of the other Military Companies, yesterday afternoon. The funeral sermon was preached at the Methodist Church by Rev Mr Rutledge, at the close of which an imposing procession was formed, and headed by the Mechanics Brass Band marched to the grave. After the burial service a salute was fired over the grave by the Company of which he was a member. At a special meeting held at the Armory of Company B last evening, the following resolutions of condolence were adopted.

WHEREAS It hath pleased the Supreme Commander of the Universe in the dispensations of His Providence to call from our ranks and companionship our esteemed friend and fellow soldier, Sergeant Benj. B. Decker therefore be it

Resolved, That in this afflictive stroke of the Divine hand we endeavor to recognize the certainty of that solemn event which awaits all things human, and while we bow humbly beneath the chastening rod of an all wise and merciful Creator, we cannot but deeply feel that severe loss which has befallen us in the unexpected and early departure of our beloved comrade.

Resolved, That in the death of Sergeant Decker the Washington Guards have lost one of their most worthy soldiers, an efficient officer and a good man.

Resolved, That we deeply and truly sympathize with the family and friends of the deceased, in this sad bereavement which has deprived them of their beloved relation and companion, and can only point them to the source of all consolation and bid them look up to Him who will heal all the wounds His hands have made and who will finally re-unite the bonds thus, so rudely broken by death's relentless hand.

On motion the Secretary of the Company was directed to furnish a copy of the foregoing resolutions to the family of the deceased, and also to the several papers of this city with the request that the same be published.
S A MORELAND, Secretary

THEATRICAL.—This evening the drama of " " will be performed for the benefit of Miss Frances R. Gass. It is a drama of startling interest, which, connected with the fact that the Theatre will be closed after two nights more, should fill the house from pit to dome. Julia Dean Hayne will conclude her engagement this week, and it will be the last opportunity for our citizens to attend the Theatre for some months.

RUNAWAY.—Yesterday as one of the Jehu's of our city was exercising the bottom of a horse, attached to a sulkey, the animal broke and run, from below the gas works, throwing the driver off his gig, the horse kept on, up to B street, where he was caught minus the sulky and part of the harness.

PEACEFUL TIMES.—If it was not for the busy times of office-seekers in button holing voters, we should scarcely have excitement enough to give us a good appetite. We have no to report in drunks for a week—what can the matter be? Perhaps the old Bums have taken the weather fever and dried up.

THE CHURCH ORGAN.—The Presbyterian Church Organ was unpacked yesterday, and placed in its position. The damp weather and the moss have injured it to some extent, but no serious damage has been done to it. The parts will receive attention from hands, as the instrument is put

A FINE FRAME.—Among the many fine things at Buchtel & Cardwell's Gallery is an picture frame, wrought in shell by Mrs. L. S McLauren, of Brooklyn. It is a credit to the lady's good taste, and we think deserving of notice.

THE SCHOONER ELLEN.—Captain George H Flavel purchased the schooner Ellen yesterday, for the sum of $2,000. She will be used in carrying building materials and supplies to the new fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia river.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—The steamship Brother Jonathan left San Francisco on the 12th for Portland, via Victoria. She will probably not arrive before the 19th.

CARGO OF THE ELLEN.—The cargo of the schooner Ellen sold to good advantage yesterday. The potatoes brought 30 cents a bushel, delivered on board, the bacon sold at 15½a16 cents per pound. A large number of peltries were sold to different parties at fair prices.

JAPANESE PUMP.—Silver & Fain have a sample of the pumps manufactured in Japan, on exhibition at their store. The specimen is of simple construction, something after the model of a common force and suction pump, but the reverse in action. It is much like a squirt-gun, and will throw a pretty good stream.

WIRE DOWN.—It must be expected at this season of the year that the telegraph wire will occasionally get out of order. The line was down between Levens' Station and Jacksonville yesterday, which has cut off our supply of news for to day.

SMALL POX.—Our Dalles neighbors are troubled with the small pox, several cases having already occurred there, some of which proved fatal. Measures are being taken to prevent its spreading, the schools have been closed and signals are to be hung out where the premises contain a sufferer by the contagion, to warn others away.

THE NEW COUNCIL.—The members of the new Council having taken their several oaths of office met at the Council Chamber last evening as follows: Councilmen Bennett, Fifelt, Frazar, Goodnough, Gradon, Hurgren, McCraken, Robertson and Starr.

On motion of Mr Starr the Council proceeded to the election of a presiding officer by ballot, when John McCraken received 8 votes and Thomas Frazar 1. Mr McCraken was declared unanimously elected.

The President elect took his seat and returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him by the Council in a short speech.

On motion of Mr Elfelt the Council proceeded to ballot for Clerk of Council for the ensuing year. Mr H R Mecker was elected on the third ballot.

Both these gentlemen are eminently qualified for the positions to which they have been elected, and we hope and believe that the Council will do equally well in filling every office which by the charter is subject to their control.

A communication was read from Mayor Failing, announcing that he deemed it proper to defer his message until the next regular meeting of the Council.

On motion adjourned.

The friends of Dr Black and those who require his services, will regret to learn that his health continues poor. His partner Dr Mack, arrived last evening from east of the mountains to take charge of the office.

SUITABLE.—Benkert's pump sole, Philadelphia made boots are just the thing. Shelby has received a new supply by this steamer. All who desire an elegant boot are advised to call soon.

STOP THAT COUGHING!
SOME OF YOU CAN'T AND WE PITY YOU. YOU have tried every remedy but the right one, and that one is destined by its intrinsic merit to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure, but

NEWELL'S
Pulmonary Syrup!
Is really what is claimed for it, namely the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefitted by the surprising curative powers of

NEWELL'S
Pulmonary Syrup!
And with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the Greatest Panacea of the Age for the healing of all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs assuring you that

NEWELLS'
Pulmonary Syrup!
Has cured thousands, and it will cure YOU if you try it.

This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste, soothing, healing, and strengthening in its effects, entirely free from all poisonous or deleterious drugs and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

OF THE EFFICACY OF
HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS!

PROTECTIVE MEDICATION

Great Truths
—IN—
SMALL COMPASS:

WHAT THE BITTERS ARE.
A pure, delightful Vegetable Balm
To cheer the spirits and the nerves to calm,
Protect the system from Miasma's bane
Rouse torpid Nature and the strength sustain

THEIR INGREDIENTS
Juices of plants roots, barks of virtues rare,
By chemic art expressed with patient care,
And the mild spirit of the soundest rye—
Purest of all diffusive stimuli

RESULTS OF THEIR USE.
Digestion rallies, appetite revives
The food assimilates the patient thrives,
Dyspepsia vanishes, with all its throes,
And peaceful sleep succeeds disturbed repose

EFFECTS ON THE LIVER.
The bilious sufferer languid listless pale
Physicked for years perhaps without avail,
Finds in the BITTERS all he asks or needs
And lives to smile at doctors and their creeds

OPERATION ON THE BOWELS.
Relaxed, constricted or the seat of pain,
These organs should not for one day remain
The cause of each extreme you can expel—
The BITTERS tone and regulate as well

EFFECT ON THE DEBILITATED.
The flaccid muscles firmness soon acquire
The frame gains flesh the eye resumes its fire,
Strength to the limbs hope to the heart returns,
Till staff and crutch the convalescent spurns

BROKEN CONSTITUTION.
The constitution tried by pain or care,
Or wild indulgence is not repair,
The genial Tonic as the healthful dews
Quickens parched herbs, its wasted power renews

CHILLS AND FEVER.
Damp cold exposure to the malarious fog,
Brings on of ills a fearful catalogue
But intermittents whatso'er their kind
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS scatter to the wind

SICK HEADACHE
This torment dire that all enjoyment kills,
Yields not to pungent scents or drastic pills,
Tis from the stomach that it takes its rise
Tone with the BITTERS and the anguish flies

WANT OF APPETITE.
Without due nourishment life's pulses wane,
The blood grows thin and dullness clouds the brain,
But this Elixir sets the system right,
And "Good Digestion waits on Appetite."

THE BITTERS AFTER SICKNESS.
Exhausting fever leaves its victim low
And unassisted Health's return is slow
Then with the Bitters weakened Nature aid,
For in each drop vitality's conveyed

AS A GENERAL PREVENTIVE.
By night and day, on river sea or land
In instant peril of disease we stand
But its dread arrows harmless seem to glide
Past all with this invigorant fortified

IMPURE WATER ETC.
Roam through the world through every climate [range,
Here is the antidote gainst every change,
Water impure ill tempers and ioures
Men in all hardships to all temperatures

SEA SICKNESS
Who has not felt how feebly words essay
The qualms one feels on shipboard to portray?
Dread them no more, defy old Neptune's power,
The Bitters cure the nausea in an hour

AN UNADULTERATED TONIC.
Of all the liquors borne across the sea
Not one—mark that—from acrid poison's free
These Bitters stand mid stimulants alone
Powerless to irritate though prompt to tone.

A MILD APERIENT.
Remember too aperient root and herb
Are blent with those that relaxation curb
In this rare mixture, give this fact due weight,
That whilst the Bitters tone they regulate

A GENTLE CORRECTIVE.
If on the stomach food to acid turns,
And pungent gas the inner membrane burns,
This grand corrective soon removes the ban,
And from the heartburn frees the inner man

A SAFE AND GENTLE ANODYNE.
Why not with all the opiates dispense,
That shake the nerves and paralyze the sense
When these rare BITTERS soothe both mind and frame,
Inviting both to yield to slumbers claim?

THE WORLD'S OPINION
Touching the BITTERS this grand fact is clear,
Their fame fills all the Western Hemisphere
Known in all lands washed by its oceans twain,
HEALTH, HOPE and VIGOR follow in their train!

AVOID COUNTERFEITS.
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS share the common fate
Of all things good. Impostors imitate
Of these beware. Discerningly use your eyes,
From honest houses purchase your supplies

CAUTION!
The Government Endorsement.
In order to guard against the impositions, the public are requested to take especial note of the beautifully engraved proprietary stamp through which the Government of the United States officially authenticates every bottle of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This shield thrown by the Government over the proprietors and the public for their joint protection is placed conspicuously across the cork and over the neck of the bottle and cannot fail to strike the eye of the most casual observer. Nothing that purports to be HOSTETTER'S BITTERS can be genuine unless the stamp is there.
It is also proper to state that the BITTERS are sold exclusively in glass and never under any circumstance by the gallon or the barrel. Impostors and imitators are abroad and the only safeguard the public have against them is to see that the Bitters they buy bear the engraved label and note of hand of Messrs HOSTETTER & SMITH, and the stamp above mentioned.

Addresses

Delivered at the Entertainment given by the Linn County Sanitary Aid Society, on Wednesday Evening, March 30, 1864.

We cheerfully give room this morning to the following excellent appeals from ladies, who express in fitting terms, the patriotism and the sympathy which ought to inspire every heart We hope they will be read by all, and we feel confident that they will touch the sensibilities of many who have not realized their individual responsibilities in the great work of relief for those who nobly give up, in behalf of the institutions of liberty, home, health, and personal security from the perils which surround the battle field

OPENING ADDRESS BY MRS WM H ODELL

Ladies and Gentlemen —In behalf of the Linn County Sanitary Aid Society I bid you welcome to our entertainment this evening The only apology I have to offer for such an unusual proceeding is, that I do it at the request of the Committee The history of the Sanitary Commission proves conclusively its utility, and it is fitting that every branch of it should adopt such measures and carry out such plans as will best promote the grand designs of this benevolent institution We come before you this evening to place our humble offering on the shrine of our country's altar, and to incite anew in our hearts our devotion to our country's cause

It is a source of heart-felt congratulation that we can meet under such favorable auspices in the time of our nation's struggle. While on the other side of the Rocky Mountains loyal hearts are throbbing with anxious hopes and fears and loyal hands are defending for us our inheritance—the Union cemented by the blood of our fathers we, upon our beautiful Pacific slope, are living in quiet of peace. No rebel raids disturb our nightly slumbers No hostile army ravages our borders, carrying devastation and death in its march No invading foe menaces our rising towns and villages or possesses one foot of our fair domain, and secession hydra headed as it is ventures forth only in disguise.

Through the three years of conflict and carnage the horrors of this civil war has not been felt by us True we know something of its historic details, but of the truthful, dreadful reality of its horrors we have not yet had an adequate conception Our citizens have been left free to pursue their usual occupations, and a gradual increase of business prosperity has been falling to our lot. Our home circles have not been thinned to fill the ranks of the soldiery, nor has the blood of those we hold dearest been poured forth in sacrifice. Our State is steadily and rapidly marching on to its destined importance and glory, and already holds a conspicuous place in the galaxy of our nation's stars

It is a matter of pride to be an American citizen We have no citizens who do not feel this none whose heart does not dilate at the thought of being one of our great Republic A spirit of carping may sometimes find utterance from disaffected minds, but this feeling of National pride does nevertheless exist, and he or she who will not avow it is a traitor to the heart's core. And they who do not desire to perpetuate our country's greatness, and transmit to posterity our blessings unimpaired, are strangers to that heaven born principle that we denominate patriotism.

It is impossible now for any one to be a passive observer of passing events There is no such thing as conservatism now. There can be no middle ground For or against, are the two stand points from which we all look out upon the scene of strife And this fact develops itself in the actors of the present time A person may boast long and loudly of his love for the Union, but if it take no more tangible form than mere words all his professions fail to convince us of his sincerity

Some peace-loving man may ask, Why need we [illegible] in [illegible] brails at this remote distance from the [illegible] of strife? Ah my good brother, whoever [illegible] may be that queries thus remember that the [illegible] our common country is in jeopardy, and you can no more stand aloof and remain guiltless of desiring its overthrow, than you would be of the death of a parent should you witness the parricidal blow without trying to arrest it And posterity, too will do you justice in this matter The stigma of secession will brand you through life and may hap build a monument to perpetuate your fame, where otherwise you would have passed into oblivion

But what can woman do? Will she not overstep the bounds of propriety if she venture into the arena of action? Thanks to the Sanitary Commission and all honor to the noble minds who projected it a grand and spacious field is opened, where woman may enter and find ample scope for her highest her holiest energies And true to the in[illegible] of her heart, she is coming forth to do that w[illegible]k The army is already "400,000 strong," a[illegible] more are coming to make sacrifices [illegible] [illegible] that this commission be sustained The s[illegible] hears, above the din of battle, the tread of the ad[illegible] among host, and hails it as the sure harbinger of victory The sick in camp and hospital hear the thrilling music of the march and rises from their straw pillows reanimated with hope and vigor The wounded rebel left to die on the battle field, sees in it the good Samaritan The fire of hatred is quenched in his bosom and ere he steps down into the dark river, his heart softened by patience invokes the Father above to give the victory to the Stars and Stripes The work has already assumed a magnitude and proportion that astonishes everybody but an American To day it stands before an admiring world as one of the sublimest enterprises of ancient or modern times The record of its achievements will glow upon the page of the future historian with unparalleled brilliancy The American in years to come will hold it in grateful remembrance, and turn with patriotic pride to this page of his nation's history and bless God that he is allied to such a people. I might properly, and perhaps I ought, here to give some statistics in proof of my assertion But the time allotted me is not sufficient for this purpose. The proof is recorded and he who wills may read it To me, however, it seems sufficient proof to look at it in its five fold work in none of which it flags In its inspections of camps and hospitals, in its special relief department in its hospital directory, [illegible] of which is a work of vast magnitude, and of [illegible] importance to our suffering soldiers, any one of which if stricken out would lessen materially the benefits of this merciful Commission Let me ask here What are we doing? What ought we to do? What will we do to carry on this mighty agency?

What are we doing? This Society was organized the first of January, the present year, and numbers one hundred members. It has held six meetings and raised three hundred dollars Albany has contributed to the Sanitary Fund some eighteen hundred dollars

What ought we to do? As a State we are largely indebted to the General Government. In payment of war debts, in appropriations for roads and surveys, for fortifications and light-houses, in military protection, in mail facilities, in liberal grants of land for educational purposes, to an amount not less than eight millions As citizens, many of you are under immediate obligation for the broad acres you hold under the Donation Law Up to this time Oregon has yielded very little revenue to the parent Government And when I hear, as I sometimes do, some one complain of the little tax he has to pay, I can only liken him to some graceless son who has been given an estate by a fond parent, and in return grudges the old father his pittance of daily food In view of these obligations, and our exemption from military service, in view of the unexampled prosperity which we have enjoyed on this coast, and our great facilities for money making, we ought to show to our sister States and to the Nation that we are not only loyal but grateful, that we are one with them in every enterprise to sustain our Government, and to crush rebellion, that we hold the cause as our cause and that we regard the valiant soldiers who are fighting for us as our brothers and sons, and that they have not only our sympathy in all their toils privations and sufferings but that they have a claim upon our purses even to the last dollar, if needed, to supply their wants We owe this to ourselves, to our country, to our prosperity, and to our God

What will we do? I know there are men and women before me this evening whose hearts are glowing with patriotic devotion and who are ready to make any sacrifices the National exigencies demand I know this feeling of patriotism is no sudden emotion, springing up in the moment of excitement, and passing away like the foam on the billow. I know it is a principle deep rooted in the soul as eternal as the soul itself and as active and unceasing in its efforts as is the great luminary of light in his beneficent course These men and women before me as I verily do, that we of this Pacific coast can wield no more potent agency to strengthen and uphold the Union cause than to furnish liberal funds to the Sanitary Commission, which saves thousands of brave soldiers from an untimely death and infuses new life into thousands more. From such hearts I know what will be the response From such labors I know what will be the success and I hazard nothing in saying that Albany and Linn county will do a noble part in this work of love and mercy

'Then brothers do not falter for the [illegible] nearly past —
Wave high the Union banner, it has weathered many a blast —
The serpent of Secession bears the [illegible] at last
While Freedom's marching on
O sisters do no weary [illegible]
Wild scenes of [illegible] and slaughter [illegible]
to you —
And women's hearts and hands [illegible]
to do,
While Freedom's marching on

CLOSING ADDRESS BY MRS J QUINN THORNTON

Ladies and Gentlemen —The Linn County Sanitary Association has devolved upon me the pleasing duty of thanking you in its behalf for your liberal contributions to its funds.

I understand that I am also expected to make some remarks in addition In attempting to meet this expectation in presence of this [illegible] assembled here, I trust that I am [illegible] respect [illegible] promising my true position as a woman [illegible] ing aught from the dignity of [illegible] When I [illegible] vert to the vast sacrifice of life and treasure [illegible] ing laid on the altar of my country I [illegible] but esteem it a privilege no less than a duty to contribute my mite towards the furtherance of the noble object which the society I have the honor to represent has in view associated as it is with the tremendous struggle in defense of liberty now being made in our land.

Even the best governments have always found it impossible to supply fully and at the right time the peculiar and pressing wants of the brave soldier who pines upon a bed of sickness or falls wounded upon the field of battle. Our own Government has done in this respect all that was practicable with the most ample means and yet, since the administration of public affairs must always proceed on general principles there will very frequently be found a multitude of cases which are exceptional because they cannot be classified under any one of those general principles They nevertheless challenge attention and make a strong appeal to our sense of justice The Sanitary Association of the United States seeks to meet the demands of at least a part of these cases as they arise in our military service It has for its object the alleviation of the suffering of the sick and wounded, whether in the field or hospital deprived they must be of the comforts of home and the soothing attentions of the loved ones there Those who conduct the affairs of the Society and are the almoners of its bounty labor unceasingly with no reward other than that which they enjoy in the luxury of doing good With warm hearts and open hands they go forth upon their errand of mercy And it is most gratifying to know that at no period in the history of this great agency of patriotic benevolence have its labors been more appreciated than now From every portion of the land occupied by our brave troops, from every military hospital in the loyal States and from every battlefield goes up the joyful blessing of the suffering soldier in testimony of the good accomplished by the Association

That the Pacific States and Territories have nobly linked their names and patriotism with this benevolent enterprise, is proven by the fact that they have supplied about seven tenths of all the vast sums expended

It is due to woman to say that Miss Nightingale is the founder of our modern sanitary system and that she did more than any one else to put it on the basis of Christianity and common sense All are familiar with her beautiful work of philanthropy at Scutari where during two busy years she revolutionized the hospitals evoked order from confusion and where by her kindness she so won the hearts of the sick and wounded that one of them said that he kissed her shadow as it fell across his pillow While we thank God for a Florence Nightingale in England, capable of devising and executing such plans of patriotic benevolence, let us thank Him still more that we now have in the United States many thousands of such wise and warm hearted women raised up by a merciful Providence to minister to the necessities of the patriot who has gone forth shouting the battle cry of freedom, and who cheerfully pours out his blood like water in defence of the dear old flag and all it symbolizes

All ladies have not a natural capacity for nursing like Miss Nightingale, now herself languishing, among the leafy lanes of Derbyshire, a martyr to her holy work in the Crimea But it ought not to be forgotten that each woman in her own sphere has the ability to contribute something in her own way to the general object in view Every pair of socks knit will warm the cold weary travel worn feet of some Union soldier And every dollar contributed will send cordials to the lips of wounded heroes and joy to their great hearts

In laboring for the noble end which the Sanitary Commission has in view, the loyal women of the free States have the satisfaction of knowing that it is not that fathers, husbands sons and lovers may be sustained in the fearful contest in which they are now engaged in order that we, when the cloud of war shall have passed away, may fold our hands in luxurious idleness, while multitudes of others of our sex shall be consigned to brutish ignorance, manacles and the lash during hopeless years of toil excessive and unrequited, deprived of the sweet amenities of home and of virtuous life

The struggle in which we are now engaged is one having no parallel in history It is the feudalism of the Middle Ages, led by Southern slave holders, warring against the civilization of the nineteenth century represented by the intelligence, the science, the progress and the Christianity of the Eastern, Western and Middle States On the one side are the South and Slavery with scourges, fetters and bloodhounds On the other side are the North and Liberty, with religion and literature, science and the arts and all the improvements and appliances of modern progress And these must fight until Union and Freedom shall win a crown priceless and imperishable

At the time of the adoption of the Constitution those who framed it, and those who adopted it were anti slavery men The invention of the cotton gin finally led through the progress of events to an unnatural alliance between the oligarchs of the South and the Democrats of the North who, thenceforward laboring to one end, succeeded at length in committing the nation to a thoroughly pro slavery policy Principles were ignored, and Liberty being thus divorced from Morality, ran into a wild and brutal license. Corruption found a hiding place in almost every office of the Government Malignity and besotted ignorance undermined the walls of the temple of liberty, polluted the ermine of justice and corrupted authority in the seats of power Religion and morality found no expression in the lives of our rulers Moral worth ceased to be considered as necessary to constitute a fitness for office. Indeed, we seemed to have been brought to the very brink of national dishonor and ruin when Buchanan was President and Floyd was Secretary of War But the God of our fathers at this most critical period in our history interposed to save the nation through the instrumentality of Abraham Lincoln, who to consummate wisdom prudence and administrative ability, adds the quality of incorruptible integrity to such an extent that the universal voice of the good and great throughout the world gives him the title of Honest, as one in classic history is known as The Just.

To every reflecting mind the history of this rebellion is replete with instruction, and conclusively proves that the God of the Bible is the God of justice not less than of Providence The events of our history preceding this war, and those occurring since its commencement illustrate the truth that when the vile are exalted, and men ignore God as the ruler of men and of nations He will visit them with His sore judgments until His indignation is turned aside by humiliation and repentance The sun in the heavens is not more clearly visible than the fact that negro slavery has been peculiarly our sin as a people and that it is now the rod of our chastisement Although this rebellion was inaugurated to establish this institution upon deeper and broader foundations than those on which it had previously been made to rest yet in the progress of events lying entirely beyond the control of the General Government and outside of the well matured plans of the rebel leaders, the Emancipation Proclamation became a military necessity leading directly to the most stupendous event ever contemplated by the Muse of History The nation heard this announcement to a race oppressed through two long centuries and was filled with unspeakable happiness The news fell upon the dull cold ear of the stolid and imbruted slave his manacles fell at once from his festering limbs and in the gratitude of his God and Father of all, he stood erect in the enjoyment of a redeemed and regenerated manhood [illegible] breezes wafted the intelligence [illegible] the ocean and while enthroned monarchs heard it as the rumbling of an earthquake, the people were electrified with a new and strange joy and the [illegible] great every land vied with each other in [illegible] to our illustrious President a place in the temple of Fame that shall survive the wreck of empires and that shall shine with increasing lustre when the name of the leaders of this most wicked rebellion are lost in the vortex of revolutions

But I need enter upon no encomiums on President Lincoln He needs none Upright and incorruptible he stands before the world the very finest character that has ever appeared upon the page of history
